

National Platform.

The following is summary of the planks in the platform adopted by the Democratic party at the convention recently held in the city of Baltimore:

Reaffirms party's devotion to the principles of Democratic government as formulated by Jefferson.

Declares for a tariff for revenue only and denounces "the high Republican tariff as the principal cause of the unequal distribution of wealth."

Favors immediate downward revision of present duties, especially upon necessities of life. Also favors gradual reduction so as not to interfere with or destroy legitimate industries.

Denounces President Taft for vetoing tariff bills of last Congress.

Condemns Republican party for failure to redeem its promises of 1908 for downward revision."

Takes issue with the Republican platform as to the high cost of living, contending it is largely due to high tariff laws.

Favors vigorous enforcement of the criminal features of the anti-trust law.

Demands such additional legislation as may be necessary to crush private monopoly.

Favors prohibition of holding companies, interlocking directions, watering, etc.

Condemns Republican administration for compromising with Standard Oil Company and the Tobacco Trust."

Denounces as "usurpation" the efforts of Republicans to deprive states of their rights and to enlarge the power of the Federal government. There is," says the platform, "not a single zone between the nation and the state in which exploiting interests can take refuge from both."

Urges people to support proposed constitutional amendment pending in various state legislatures, providing for an income tax and election of United States senators by the people.

As justification of the demand of the party for publicity of campaign expenditures of money in behalf of the president and his predecessor in the recent presidential contest,"

Declares for presidential preference primaries. Directs national committee to provide for selection at the primaries of members of the national committee.

Pledges party to enactment of law prohibiting campaign contributions by corporations and unreasonable campaign contributions by individuals.

Favors single presidential term and making president ineligible to reelection.

Felicitates Democratic Congress on its record, enumerating important achievements, and pledge an adequate navy.

Denounces Republican administration on charge of extravagance and demands return to simplicity and economy benefiting a Democratic government.

Favors efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads, express companies, telegraph, telephone lines, and a valuation of these companies by the Interstate Commerce Commission and also legislation against overissuance of stock by these corporations.

In connection with a demand for such a revision of the banking laws as will give temporary relief in case of financial distress, there is a denunciation of the Aldrich bill prepared by the monetary commission.

The present method of depositing government funds is condemned, and the party is pledged to the enactment of a law for the deposit of such funds by competitive bidding as state or national funds, without discrimination as to locality.

Recommends investigation of agricultural societies in Europe to ascertain whether a system of rural credits may be devised suitable to conditions in the United States.

Pledges party to enactment of legislation to prevent devastation of lower Mississippi valley by floods, and the control of the Mississippi is declared to be a national rather than a state problem. The maintenance of a navigable channel is also recommended.

Favors national aid regarding post roads.

Repeats party's declaration of the platform of 1908 as to rights of labor and pledges the party to an employees' compensation law.

Declares the unnecessary withdrawal of public land tends to retard development and bring reproach upon the policy of conservation; that reservations should be limited to purposes which they purport to serve: favors broadest liberality in administering land laws and says forest reserve act permitting homestead entries within the national forest should not be nullified by administrative regulations, and declares for immediate action to make available Alaskan coal lands and safe guarding of the lives of miners.

Favors encouragement of agriculture and legislation to suppress gambling in agricultural products.

Believes in fostering growth of a merchant marine and urges speedy enactment of laws for greater security of life and property at sea.

Reaffirms previous declarations regarding pure food and public health.

Favors organization of the civil service, and says law should be honestly and rigidly enforced.

Recommends law reform legislation.

Reaffirms position against "policy of imperialism and colonial exploitation" in Philippines.

Welcomes Arizona and New Mexico into sisterhood of states.

Demands for Alaska full enjoyment of rights and privileges of territorial form of government.

Refers to Russian treaty and renews pledge to preserve "sacred rights of American citizenship at home and abroad."

Favors parcels post and extension of rural delivery.

Favors as much encouragement as properly can be given Panama Canal Exposition.

Commands to the states adoption of a law making it an offense to discriminate against the uniform of the United States army.

Renews declaration of the last platform regarding generous pension policy.

Refers to the rule of the people and says: "The Democratic party offers itself to the country as an agency through which the complete overthrow and expiration of corruption, fraud and machine rule in American politics can be effected."

The conclusion to the platform says: "Our platform is one of principles which we believe to be essential to our National welfare," and invites co-operation of all citizens who believe in "maintaining unimpaired the institutions and traditions of our country."

The farmers have talked a great deal about the influence of the moon on vegetation. Some contend that corn planted

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men of affairs, as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and this blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade.

The Presidential election; the efforts of Congress with no fixed purpose; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests, to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Plenty. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and favor-seeking class. Be it further

WORDSWORTH'S RECITATION.

The Way the English Poet Received Ralph Waldo Emerson.

When Emerson, the great American writer, came to England he paid a visit to Wordsworth, says an English magazine. Wordsworth had just returned from journey and was in his garden writing a poem on what he had seen. The visitor found the great poet a white haired, tall, sparely built man, of a rugged, rustic type, with nothing, unless it were the fine eyes, to hint of the poet.

Wordsworth made no ceremony over the visit of the man from a far land, but said instantly when he was called to greet him, "If you are interested in my poetry perhaps you will like to hear these lines." Emerson politely agreed, and this is what happened. Emerson has himself written the story down for us. The old poet thought for a few moments, then stood forth and repeated with great animation an entire poem he had written.

"The recitation," the American philosopher wrote afterward, "was so unlooked for and surprising—Wordsworth standing apart and reciting to me in a garden walk, like a schoolboy declaiming—that at first I was near to laughing; but, recollecting myself that I had come thus far to see a poet and he was chanting poems to me, I saw that he was right and that I was wrong, and I gladly gave myself up to hear."

STOVES OF IRON.

They Superseded the Roman Stuba in the Eighteenth Century.

A heating apparatus called a "stuba" (stove) was widely used among the higher class of Romans before the beginning of the Christian era. This class of heaters was fixed and immovable, besides being in several other respects wholly different from the modern stove. In Germany and Scandinavia they were used in bathrooms and hothouses during the middle ages. They were usually constructed of brick, stone or tile and were of immense size. They sometimes covered the whole side of a twenty or thirty foot room and often extended out into the room as much as ten feet, in which case the smooth, flat top was used for bedstead, the heated surface imparting an agreeable feeling of warmth during those cold nights of long ago when such things as covers were quite rare.

Cardinal Polignac of France was perhaps the first to attempt the construction of a stove wholly of iron, this at about the beginning of the eighteenth century. The first real improvement over the old Roman "stuba" was brought about by Franklin in the year 1745. One of his efforts produced a typical base burner, almost perfect and a model of workmanship. Stoves were not used in private houses to any great extent prior to the year 1830.—London Standard.

Traveling Stones.

"Traveling stones," from the size of a pea to six inches in diameter, are found in Nevada. When distributed upon a floor or other level surface within two or three feet of one another they immediately begin to travel toward a common center and there lie buddled like a clutch of eggs in a nest. A single stone removed to a distance of three and a half feet upon being released at once started with wonderful and somewhat comical celerity to join its fellows. These queer stones are found in a region that is comparatively level and little more than bare rock. Scattered over this barren region are little basins from a few feet to a rod or two in diameter, and it is in the bottoms of these that the rolling stones are found. The cause for the strange conduct of these stones is doubtless to be found in the material of which they are composed, which appears to be lodestone or magnetic iron ore.—Harper's Weekly.

In a good many states laws recently passed specify what shall constitute official weights for the many products of the soil used in general consumption. Where such laws have been passed it means that the buyer can insist on a fair measure when he buys a given amount. Three products of general consumption where the enforcement of the law is likely to make a difference are potatoes, onions and apples.

Every thinking horseman knows that it is not whether a collar is soft, but whether it fits, that makes it a good or bad collar. Without question the best collar made today is an iron frame in which there is no leather or padding on the parts touching the shoulder. This reduces perspiration to a minimum and keeps the surface of the skin in a healthy condition. A collar that has to be padded is likely to be either a poor fit or poorly made.

As a source of supply for the nitrogen ration needed on the farm a field of alfalfa is preferable to a clover meadow for two reasons. The first is that it is a perennial, not a biennial, as is the clover. This means that it can send its roots deeper into the earth and when once established is much less likely to winter kill or die in a dry spell, as was the case last summer. A second point in favor of alfalfa is that under equally favorable conditions it will yield twice as much hay as will clover. Perhaps it is somewhat more difficult to get a field of alfalfa started, but it is worth the effort.

For those living in the northerly latitudes who have a strawberry bed to carry through the winter for the first time a suggestion will be in place as to protecting it. It is well to wait until the ground is frozen firmly, when the bed should be given a covering of clean straw, coarse hay or cornstalks and of sufficient depth to shield from the rays of the sun and keep the bed from alternate thawing and freezing during the winter. If one's locality is likely to be visited by a killing frost at blossom time the danger may be reduced by allowing the covering to remain on the bed until a couple of weeks after other green things get well started. If the covering is of straw it is an excellent plan to merely rake it from the plants on to the spaces between the rows, where it will serve as an excellent mulch and keep the berries clean.

With proper care ducks will begin laying at five months without regard to the time of their being hatched.

Data lately published show that about 14,000 families are at present residing on land watered by government irrigation systems.

While there may be greater risk in raising them, a flock of cockerels at 10 cents a pound live weight are a more profitable proposition than the average hog or steer.

A unique experiment in oiling railway tracks was worked out the other day on a transcontinental line when a tank car containing 10,000 gallons of coconut oil sprung a leak and the contents were spilled for a long distance. The dust was laid, but the material used was a bit high priced.

There is mighty little consistency in the cry put up by many farmers about the high price of farm machinery resulting from manipulation by the trusts when these same implements are left exposed to the weather in headlands and fence corners with no covering but a few cobwebs.

The grand total value of all live stock of the country, including the several kinds of domestic animals, poultry and bees, as reported to the census bureau for 1910, is $4,885,000,000. This is an increase of nearly 60 per cent over the showing of 1900, when the figures were $3,075,000,000.

The idiotic practice still persists of getting pure bred cattle so fat in making them ready for live stock exhibitions as to virtually ruin them for breeding. The live stock authority or judge who has the nerve and good sense to lead a vigorous revolt against this senseless practice will be entitled to the thanks of every raiser of blooded cattle in the country.

Ensilage is coming more and more into favor as a part ration for feeding cattle. A combination that is hard to beat is twenty-five to thirty pounds of silage, from eighteen to twenty pounds of corn and from two to four pounds of clover hay or alfalfa. Where it is not possible to secure these legumes two or three pounds of oil or cotton seed meal will be a good substitute.

In a good many states laws recently passed specify what shall constitute official weights for the many products of the soil used in general consumption. Where such laws have been passed it means that the buyer can insist on a fair measure when he buys a given amount. Three products of general consumption where the enforcement of the law is likely to make a difference are potatoes, onions and apples.

Announcements

Sullivan.

We are authorized to announce J. A. Sullivan, of Madison county, a candidate for Congress in this the Eighth District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held August 1912.

Harvey Helm.

We are authorized to announce that Hon. Harvey Helm, of Lincoln county is a candidate for Congress, in the Eight district, subject to the Democratic primary to be held August 3, 1912.

J. B. Speed, a prominent, and perhaps the wealthiest man in Louisville, died last week. His body was cremated.

Lorimer has been ousted from the United States Senate. The vote was 55 to 28. He went to the Senate from Illinois.

In defending Senator Lorimer, before the Senate, Senator Dillingham, of Vermont made a cutting attack on Col. Roosevelt.

The movement upon the part of some Republican leaders to have President Taft withdraw from the race for the Presidency, will amount to naught.

Speaker Clark has been to Seagirt and had a talk with Woodrow Wilson. They discussed some legislation now pending in Congress, and also Mr. Wilson's campaign for the Presidency.

A call has been issued from Mr. Roosevelt's supporters for a national convention to be held in Chicago, August 5. A representative from all but eight States signed a petition for the call.

Charles D. Hillis has been chosen Chairman of Mr. Taft's Campaign Committee. James K. Reynolds, of Massachusetts, was selected Secretary. The full Committee will meet in New York July 19.

Senator Bradley is naming the post masters in the Eleventh district. Caleb Powers, it seems has but little weight with the President. Last week he recommended his brother, John, to be post master at Middlesboro, but W. H. Turner was re-appointed.

Hon. Harvey Helm, the present representative in Congress from the Eighth district, and candidate for renomination, presented his claims at eight different appointments in Adair county last week. Farmers were busy, but he had a respectable hearing at each speaking.

Expressions from newspapers throughout the United States, bring the glad tidings that the Democrats are perfectly satisfied with the ticket nominated at Baltimore. Several metropolitan Republican papers have announced for the ticket and a very large number of independent sheets. The Louisville Post will battle for the Democratic candidates.

Pellyton.

There has been a great deal of rain but crops look well.

Mrs. Ermine Jeffries, of Casey county, was visiting relatives and friends here last week.

Mr. J. D. Lowe called on the merchants at this place the latter part of the week.

Rev. W. H. Lemmon filled his regular appointment at Atwoods Chapel last Sunday.

The school at this place commenced last Monday with Mrs. Mary Gabbert, of Casey creek, as teacher.

The teachers of this place are located as follows:

Estell Sanders, Sulphur Springs.

Robert Williams and W. E. Sanders, Barnetts creek,

Oscar Sinclair, Smiley.

W. S. Sinclair, Mt. Zion.

Mr. S. C. Neat and son, Robert, were here Friday taking orders.

Frank and Welby Mings returned from Illinois a few days ago.

Joe Harden has started on another four years job carrying the mail from Pellyton to Knifley, he has also contracted to carry it from this place to Parson.

Mr. N. T. Jones and Wesley Lemmon are doing a fine business in the huxter trade.

Mr. G. N. Roberts has put in a stock of goods at this place, that makes the third store for Pellyton.

Prof. Moss, Columbia, stayed over Sunday with Mr. J. H. Sanders, at this place, en route to Pulaski county.

Additional Locals.

S. B. Walkup and his brother, two colored men who left Adair county and located in Illinois twenty years ago, have been prosperous. They are in the real estate business, and have accumulated and have in their own right about twelve thousand dollars worth of property. They also have in their possession, for other parties, fifteen thousand dollars worth of real estate. S. B. Walkup is now visiting his mother in Adair county.

Dr. Crossfield, of Lexington, filled the pulpit at the Christian church last Sunday forenoon and evening. He is an able minister, not altogether a stranger here, having assisted the pastor in a meeting in Columbia ten years ago. He was very kindly remembered, and large congregations heard him.

Mr. J. R. McFarland, brother of W. T. McFarland, this place, has been appointed circuit court clerk of Russell county, to succeed Mr. N. B. Falkenburg, who resigned. Mr. McFarland took charge of the office last Monday. He is well qualified and is an excellent gentleman.

Read the notice of the pike meeting to be held at Russell Springs, published in this paper. The people of Columbia and Adair county should become interested. The proposition will be to build a pike from Jamestown to Columbia via Russell Springs.

Mr. A. D. Patteson will please accept our thanks for three large, delicious tomatoes, the first to come, grown in his garden. Mr. Patteson has been using tomatoes on his table for a week, besides he has furnished several of his neighbors.

Austin Gilpin, of Sparksville, threshed out 110 bushels of wheat from five acres of ground.

The dwelling house of X. W. Scott, near Ruby, this county, was consumed by fire last Thursday at 12 o'clock. Insurance eight or nine hundred. This makes the second dwelling Mr. Scott has lost in the last two years. The household goods were saved.

A new breed of rats has struck this town. They are large, nearly white and spotted. Dr. W. F. Cartwright killed two on his premises last Thursday morning.

W. L. Gadberry, of Sparksville, has exhibited at this office a well-shaped turnip, perfectly solid, that weighed 7 pounds. The vegetable was grown in his garden.

Blackberries Wanted.

Fifty gallons of blackberries wanted at the Lindsey-Wilson.

CAUSE AND REMEDY.

Uncertainty of the immediate future is looked upon by many men of affairs, as a blockade to enterprise and business prosperity, and this blockade is now quite apparent throughout the channels of trade.

The Presidential Election, the efforts of Congress with no fixed purpose; Organized Labor as a new factor in politics; together with other matters of greater or less import, represent at this time a chaotic conflict of separate interests, to harmonize which is now the problem before the country.

All want Prosperity, Peace and Plenty. Read with care the Cincinnati Enquirer, a journal that prints all the news each day from every commercial center throughout the world. A barometer of causes and effects that points out, as a Beacon Light, the danger and the safeguard therefrom.

As well known, the Daily Enquirer is the largest in size and highest priced paper in the United States, yet cheapest, measured by quality and quantity.

The Weekly Enquirer, with the cream and digest of all the news, able and conservative editorials, market reports, methods and results from Government and State Experiment Stations, veterinary literature, People's Forum, choice stories, short and continued stories, non-sectarian sermons, general information, etc., with the exclusion of all matters of scandal and immorality, is today the Cleanest Weekly Family Journal obtainable. Each issue is alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

Solicitors for subscriptions make a handsome profit and increase the good influence of The Enquirer in the uplift of morality and industry, and for the betterment and welfare of the community. For terms write to The Enquirer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

An Entertaining Lecture.

The lecture on Ben Hur, illustrated, given by Rev. J. R. Crawford, drew a large audience to the Presbyterian church last Sunday night. Ben Hur, as all reading people know, is a story of the Christ, and is a book perhaps that has been read by more people than any other one publication, saving the Bible. The stories of the three Wise men from the East are of intense interest and the chariot race most thrilling. The book, as every body knows, was written by General Wallace, who, as a pen picturer, had but few equals. Rev. Crawford used much of General Wallace's beautiful language in his lecture, and there was scarcely a stir during the hour in which it was delivered.

What the Club Says.

The Columbia baseball team is loud in its praise of the very hospitable treatment it received at Lebanon during the series of games played at the Chautauqua grounds. However, the manager states that there is no doubt but the umpire robbed Columbia in the last game the club engaged, the one against Springfield. He further states that the fraud was so palpable that all who witnessed the game so expressed themselves.

Notwithstanding the members of the club are fully convinced that they met foul play in the game mentioned above, they came home in fine spirits, and have no stones to throw at the players of other clubs nor the residents of Lebanon.

The members will please bear in mind that next Sunday is the last service of the quarter for District Missions and kindly bring your contribution. This will also be the regular time adopted by the church for making an offering to the Students' Aid Fund of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Let us make this as large as possible. Young men who are able to pay their way through school are not entering the ministry as we could wish. It is therefore obligatory on us to aid those who are worthy and unable to prepare themselves for the great task to which the Lord has called them.

Jo Buck Jackman, a nine year old son of Mr. W. A. Jackman, was kicked on one of his knees by a mule at Cooper, Texas, July 4th. The knee was so badly crushed that an operation was necessary with the hope of saving the life of the boy, but he died soon after the operation. The father of the lad formerly lived in Columbia. He is a brother of Mrs. John Eubank.

What's The Matter With Your Baby?

The young mother—and many an old one, too—is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The louder its crying does not necessarily indicate a serious disease, but its trouble. It may have nothing more than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, affect the feelings, but as a preliminary measure you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Nine times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs for its restlessness and peevishness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been removed, the headache, dullness, and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. S. Adams, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. L. M. Boyce, Tip Top, Ky., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women and old folks generally. People who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of American families have been enthusiastic about it for more than a quarter of a century.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents a bottle, let me send you (free size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

TIMELY HINTS FOR FARMERS

To Prevent Potatoes Sprouting.

A German publication gives a new method for keeping potatoes from sprouting, which consists in placing them on a layer of coke. Dr. Schiller of Brunswick, who has published the method, is of the opinion that the improved ventilation by means of coke is not alone responsible for the result, but believes that it is due to the oxidation of the coke, which, however, is a very slow one. Coke always contains sulphur, and it is very possible that the minute quantities of oxides of carbon and sulphur which result from the oxidation, mixing with the air and penetrating among the potatoes, are sufficient greatly to retard sprouting. Potatoes so treated are said to keep in good condition until the following July.

The Ideal Horse Shoe.

The ideal shoe is one which is light, consistent with a month's wear. This will keep the foot level instead, as is the case with a heavy shoe and heels, of putting the greater pressure on the toe. Very careful examination and calculation have proved that if a four pound shoe is used, as is sometimes the case, on heavy horses, a horse in an ordinary day's work lifts fifty-two tons on each foot, or 208 tons in all, more than is necessary. This, of course, involves a needless expenditure of muscular energy and more feed needed to keep the animal in proper condition, so that with a lighter shoe the owner would not only relieve the horse, but lessen his grain bill.—American Cultivator.

Selection of the Ram.

Selection of a sire is of the greatest importance in the breeding of a profitable sheep flock. Here is where we look for the improvement of our flock, and therefore the greatest care rests on the selection.—W. A. McKerrow.

The Guinea Hen.

Guinea hens are prolific egg producers and do not require a great deal of attention when kept on the farm. They like liberty and do not bear confinement well. For best results guineas should have plenty of range.

WHEN THE SOIL REQUIRES LIME.

Need Best Determined by a Few Experiments.

There is only one sure way of determining whether a soil needs lime, and that is by trial. An application of lime over a whole field would be a waste of both time and money if the field were not in need of such an application. It is suggested that the farmer who has not already proved for himself whether his soils need lime would better conduct a few simple experiments at different points on his farm.

A few barrels of lime or a few tons of limestone would not cost a great deal, and the labor of treating a strip with lime or ground limestone here and there across different fields in which crops were to be grown or so treat a small area here and there at different points in the fields in which crops have to be grown would involve but a small amount of labor. These areas should be very carefully located and marked, and the results of the applications should be carefully studied on the succeeding crops. It is possible that the effects, good or bad, may be easily apparent. It is possible that the effects can be discovered only by carefully cutting and weighing the crops from portions of the treated areas and comparing them with the crops produced upon equal adjacent areas.

Lime should not be applied to manure piles nor to the litter in the barn.

Lime should not be applied to land being prepared for potatoes.—Michigan Experiment Station.

Poultry Points.

If the hens take to the trees at night it's a sign something is wrong with their house. Keep it clean and free from mites and they will be satisfied with it.

Better get that pure bred cock for next year's use soon. It will cost more next spring.

The flocks are a pretty good guide to age of fowl. Spurs belong to old birds usually. Don't keep birds with scaly legs or those that have been sick during the season. If they are well now get rid of them, for they are not likely to be more profitable in the future.

Unless we give the hen good care now, we cannot expect her to have any regard for our grocery bill next winter.

Her new winter suit costs something as well as our own, and, like others of her sex, she cannot dispense herself creditably unless well dressed.

The Dairy Cow.

The dairy cow is a necessity if you expect to build up your farm and reduce the home expenses. She contributes the best articles of food the cheapest and affords gratis the best fertilizing material known. Unlike the beef steer, the dairy cow does not have to be slaughtered to produce food, but so long as she is properly cared for she gives food products, valuable offspring and fertilizer.

Simple Nut Candy Recipe.

One and one-half cupfuls of New Orleans molasses, three-fourths cupful of granulated sugar, three-fourths cupful of butter, one-half pound of figs, which have been scraped and chopped fine, and the soda; also add the nuts, which should be carefully selected. When well mixed pour into a buttered breadpan of medium size. When cool cut around the edge and turn out. Divide into slices.

Boil the sugar and molasses as for molasses candy until nearly done, then add the butter and continue boiling until it becomes brittle when a little of it is tried in cold water. Add the—figs, which have been scraped and chopped fine, and the soda; also add the nuts, which should be carefully selected. When well mixed pour into a buttered breadpan of medium size. When cool cut around the edge and turn out. Divide into slices.

Young Women

Read what Cardui did for Miss Myria Engler, of Faribault, Minn. She says: "Let me tell you how much good Cardui has done me. As a young girl, I always had to suffer so much with all kind of pain. Sometimes, I was so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet. I got a bottle of Cardui, at the drug store, and as soon as I had taken a few doses, I began to feel better."

Today, I feel as well as anyone can."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Are you a woman? Then you are subject to a large number of troubles and irregularities, peculiar to women, which, in time, often lead to more serious trouble.

A tonic is needed to help you over the hard places, to relieve weakness, headache, and other unnecessary pains, the signs of weak nerves and over-work.

For a tonic, take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

You will never regret it, for it will certainly help you. Ask your druggist about it. He knows. He sells it.

What Makes A Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle won't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by Paull Drug Co.

Playing poker in ones own home, according to a New York jurist, is not a crime. Nevertheless, ones wife is likely to think so if the home team loses.

The wheat and oats of this community have about all been cut and the result is very satisfactory.

Quite a painful accident happened last Friday evening. While coming home from a social gathering Mark Holladay's horse slipped, falling on his foot, causing a very bad hurt, but at this writing he is getting along nicely.

Misses Estelle Willis and Nell Tupman have arrived from Ga., where they have been engaged in teaching. Both ladies are excellent teachers, and we are glad to have them with us again.

Miss Allye Garnett visited Miss Willard Huffaker last Saturday and Sunday, also attended the lawn party given by Miss Minnie Kate Tupman.

Misses Mabel and Irene Murrell, of Craycraft, visited relatives at this place last Saturday and Sunday.

A social was given at the home of Mr. John Jones last Friday evening. A large crowd was present and all reported a nice time.

We hope to have one of the best county schools in this country, with Miss Bessie Epperson, a fine and experienced teacher to help in the work, I say help because a teacher alone can not make a success without the help and good will of the patrons. We hope all the children will be forced to attend part of this term anyway as the law requires. If the work does not meet the parents approval they should think before finding fault with the teacher, as every one has different ideas of subjects, but visit the school and see what, and how things are done as it is the duty of every parent of the district, and the teacher will delight in the interest that is being taken, then we will have one of best schools as that is what we want and need.

House Party.

The house party given by Stela Stephenson, at her home in Rowena, Ky., last week, was enjoyed by all who were present.

Those who attended were Misses Fannye Dalton, Ruby Armstrong, of Albany, Ky., Hulda McFarland, Mattye Rowe, Pruda Rowe, Kate and Elma Stephenson; Messrs. Oscar McBeath, of Danville, Ky., Vernon Holt, Sam Humble and Lawrence Sullivan, of Jamestown, Ben Rowe, James Guthrie, Dr. T. P. Stephenson, Dr. G. S. Dunbar, of Rowena, Dr. K. S. Lester, of Kendall.

They had enjoyable times boating, fishing, driving, especially the trip to Jamestown, on Saturday, where a beautiful lunch was awaiting them at the Holt Hotel at noon. Then in the afternoon the party drove to Russell Springs, stopped at the Kimble Hotel, but attended the ice cream supper at the Russell Springs Hotel in the evening. On Sunday afternoon they returned to Jamestown, and on Monday they went to Rowena. Then all went to their different homes, feeling that they had had one of the most enjoyable times of their lives.

R. P. Breeding.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS A SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

We are indebted to Dr. Gross Alexander, our Book Editor and Editor of the Methodist Review for the following valuable sketch of Brother Breeding and his work:

A few years ago I had the privilege of spending a few days in the home of an exceptional man and an exceptional family. Their home was located in the lap of a group of heaven-kissing schools in a picturesque part of Kentucky. The name of the man was Breeding, and the name of the town was Breeding, 'o' his jewels. His children are all the grandfather. I found that it was as nearly an ideal community with as nearly ideal conditions as I ever saw in the world. The home of Brother Breeding was, and of the good he can do, was as good a home as if it had been made to order. And the community was very much like Southern Methodist Church as the home. The good man who was the head of the home and who gave tone to the whole town and community has recently died (March 4) at the age of eighty-one years. He was a devoted worker in the Sunday School of his church and was for thirty-five years its superintendent. He saw that the building was always comfortable and active Christians and members of the church. His life is a good example of what a faithful, consecrated, consistent layman can be, and of the good he can do. Would to God that we had thousand of such laymen in the Southern Methodist Church as Brother R. P. Breeding.

R. P. Breeding.

Brother Breeding was the father of Mrs. Lula B. Shepard, of Nashville, the widow of my old boyhood friend, Dr. J. R. Shepard, formerly of Scottsville, Ky.. The birthplace of us both. May the memory of the beautiful life of Brother Breeding be a blessing to every member of his extensive family.

and will take a rest for a year or so.

Eldridge Stotts is very sick with fever at this writing.

Willie Bennett and Ernest Stotts left last Sunday for Jeffersonville, Ind., where they will work in the car shops.

Jake Wooten and sons, Sparks, were here last Wednesday morning.

As Eldridge Stotts has been unable to work his crop on account of sickness several of the neighbors met there last Wednesday and plowed out his crop.

Just as soon as the ground is dry enough they will go in again and chop out and hoe his corn.

School will open at Independence next Monday with F. E. Webb as teacher.

Garnett Polston, of the Greenbriar neighborhood, has been confined to his room for the past ten days with fever.

Several hundred people attended the old folks meeting at the new Union church here last Sunday. The preaching was good, the singing was good and the dinner could not have been excelled.

Mose Wooten is now the mail carrier on this route. Mose says that it is the first job he ever had that he really liked. Z. T. Bennett, the retiring carrier, has been engaged in this line of business for the past fifteen years neatly kept in order so as to be as attractive as possible to young people of the community.

Brother Breeding was always actively interested in the poor and sick of the neighborhood and community and administered to their wants with his personal care and his means. But above every thing else he was interested in and devoted to the Sunday School even to the very last. During his last illness and when he was very low, he wanted to be taken to the Sunday School once more because he had something he wanted to say to the children before leaving them forever. He always called them

Obituary.

Berry McKinley was born February 12, 1843, and died April 21, 1912. He died of heart trouble, while sitting in his easy chair. He was twice married. First, to Miss Carrie Elizabeth Price, May 7, 1878. He had two children by his first marriage, Mesdames Ollie Stone and Onen F. McKinley. He was married the second time to Leona Meadows, daughter of Andrew and Mary Meadows, December the 27th, 1900. He was good and kind to every body, and had no enemies. He leaves a wife, one son and granddaughter—Elizabeth Stone. He was a kind husband, a devoted father and a good neighbor, and we miss him. He was a devoted mason and was loved by the brotherhood. He was buried by that fraternity. The funeral was preached by Rev. D. T. Tarter, and he was laid away in Bethlehem cemetery, to await the resurrection morning, when we hope to see him come forth robed in white and crowned with glory.

The morning before he died his dear wife said to him, don't you want to get ready and be baptized with Owen, his dear boy, who had just been converted, and joined the Methodist church at Bethlehem, and was to be baptized in a few days. He said he was trying to get ready, although he was very feeble at that time, and died suddenly. But none of us know the dealings of God with his precious souls. We hope to meet him in that land where the parting never comes. But Oh, how his loved ones miss him. The head and stay is gone away, and they are left alone. The father dear who was so near has fled away and gone. On that beautiful Sunday morning when all was bright and fair, and when we all least expected it, God reached down and clipped the brittle thread of life, and he went away to come back no more. How they miss the footfalls, and that dear familiar voice that they loved to hear is silent to counsel them no more. We hope some sweet day they will be one united family in heaven.

Children's Home Society.

We have over 60 children under 8 years of age; we have 10 boy babies, 8 months and younger, splendid little fellows, any one of whom you might expect some day to be President of the United States, and we have the sweetest and prettiest lot of boys and girls from 2 to 8 years of age to be found anywhere.

These children need homes; especially do they need the pure country air and good food for the summer months. Won't you take an interest in these children and allow us to place one of them in your home on trial at least? It is very hard to have these children cramped up in an institution during the summer months.

We trust our appeal will result in a large number of applications coming in for the little babies, as well as the boys and girls from 2 to 8 years of age.

Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Yours very respectfully
Geo. Sehon,
State Supt.

In Memoriam.

On the morning of May 15, 1912, the spirit of Lela Blair, the beloved wife of Melvin E. Blair, took its flight to God who gave it.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wilkinson. Besides a father and mother she leaves one sister and one brother who deeply suffer the loss, also a loving husband and three girls, who are almost heartbroken. Home is so lonely for them now. She was kind and good, and always took so much interest in her children. May they ever remember the good advice she gave them, and try to live in a way to meet her in heaven.

Oh, how sad it is to think we can never see or be with her in this world again, but we can live to meet her in heaven, where there will be no more sad parting, no more pain nor sorrow. Where all will be peace and gladness forever. We know if she could only speak, she would say; "Don't grieve, for I am at rest." But how can we help it? I would gladly call her back if I had power to do so. I feel safe in saying if all Christians would live like she did, they would not fear death. Sister has said many times that she wasn't afraid to die.

She was kind hearted, loving and affectionate in disposition, lightening the burdens of those around her. She leaves a place vacant in the home, which never can be filled. She was ever the comfort of the family, and was loved by all who knew her, for she had a sweet smile with which to greet all whom she met.

Truly it could be said of her; "To know her was to love her." Her friends could not be numbered. Her life was so pure, kind, and loving, and as a daughter, mother and sister she was so sympathetic, tender and affectionate. As a Christian she was true, faithful and obedient.

Oh God, can it be that my sweet and gentle sister is gone forever? No more will her loving voice be heard, yet in memory we ever hear her gently calling.

She lived for others, speaking comforting words to the sorrowing and sympathizing with the suffering. We weep not as those who have no hope, for though she can never come to us again, we can go to her. Our loss is her eternal gain. She will ever be waiting and watching for the dear ones to come, and welcome them home where all is peace and rest.

We miss you dearest darling. Stricken and heart-broken we are left, yet God knows best, and He in His mercy has called you forth, for your work on earth was ended, your mansion in heaven complete, and now you sit as one of the most precious jewels of that bright and happy land. God blessed you on earth, He will bless you there where soon we shall meet you to part no more.

We loved thee dearest darling, No tongue can tell How much we loved thee, And how well. God loved the too, and thought it best, To take the home with him to rest.

We miss you dear sister, Oh! to see the vacant chair, We miss you, yes we miss you, We miss you every where.

A Sister.

Surprise Birthday Dinner.

Wednesday June the 5th, was the birthday of M. T. Thomas, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of this vicinity.

At ten o'clock friends began to come in, the number in all being forty-two. There was a large dinner spread and enjoyed by all. It was a grand surprise to Uncle Taylor as he is familiarly called and showed the appreciation of his many friends and neighbors. It was an enjoyable occasion long to be remembered by who were present.
